Logistics+ Chooses CargoWise edi to Deploy ediEnterprise System Globally

Chicago, Illinois, USA, July 21, 2008 — CargoWise® edi, a leading provider of integrated international supply chain logistics management systems, announced that Logistics+ has successfully implemented CargoWise edi's award-winning ediEnterprise software solution into its operations in the U.S., Canada, Mexico and the United Kingdom, and announced plans to expand the system globally.

The highly modular, enterprise-class system streamlines operations, accounts and management duties of freight forwarders, customs brokers, container freight stations, ships agents, warehouses, cartage and trucking companies. Greatly improved service to customers and reduced operating costs are realized with ediEnterprise's built-in process management, flexible and customizable reporting, which provides a significant increase in shipment visibility.

Logistics+ first integrated ediEnterprise into its international forwarding and warehousing operations in North America in January of 2008, including in its U.S. headquarters and offices in Mexico and Canada. Its operations in the United Kingdom went live in May 2008 and are now beginning to implement the software suite into its Belgium and China offices in an effort to standardize the operations and finances of all global offices with the ediEnterprise system.

Richard White, CEO of CargoWise edi said: "We are thrilled to have Logistics+ choose ediEnterprise as their operations and financial software suite. ediEnterprise adds new operational efficiencies and improved workflow to provide the company the single-solution edge it requires to better serve the markets in which they operate. By integrating operational and accounting efficiencies across its global network of offices in a single IT installation, our product helps to reduce operational costs whilst simultaneously driving up customer service, visibility and quality levels."

Jeremy Chaffee, Director of International Operations of Logistics+ stated: "We have been impressed with ediEnterprise's capabilities as a forwarding, warehousing, accounting, and sales and marketing tool. CargoWise edi has demonstrated a commitment in working with its customers to constantly fine-tune and enhance its product offerings.
